ANTONE DOE CONVICTED

His Attorney Comes Near Being Sent up.

A few days ago one Antone Doe entered a saloon and getting in a heated argument with Antone Benenato, attempted to run the establishment. It resulted in a large disturbance of the peace and Benenato had him arrested.

The defendant seeing his desperate straight began to look about for legal talent, and selected Councillor Matt Brannan, the newly fledged barrister of the court.

A large crowd was present to listen to the oratory of Colonel Brannan, who was cocked and primed for the great event.

He summed up as follows: "Gentlemen of the jury, suppose my client did go into the saloon and bang this man over the head with a few stools. What of that? a man must have some amusement in a quiet town, and if Benenato hadn't been there loafing about the saloon, he wouldn't have been hurt. When the cerfaw bell rang why wasn't he in bed like the rest of us."

"These officers go prowling about at night yanking in anybody they can, because they get a fee for every poor devil they can jail. If they had salaries instead of fees, they would be more careful how they arrest leading citizens and take them down to the Bastille."

"I for one ——— The Court. "Now look here Mr. Brannan, you are reflecting on the officers and you can't do it in this court. If I hear any more such talk I will fine you for contempt. You ought to go to jail for ten days for using any such language in this court room, but as you are just starting on a legal career I'll only reprimand you."

The attorney sat down at once, fearful that his zeal for his client might tempt him to some fresh insult to the dignity of the court.

The jury found the defendant guilty but concluded to give Brannan another chance.

A CURIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Cow Explodes on Springmeyer's Ranch.

A curious story comes from Douglas and vouched for by Herman Springmeyer. On Sunday evening last, he heard a strange noise in his barn and on going out found a cow suffering from bloat, caused by gas on the stomach. It had eaten some alfalfa hay which had been put up before being perfectly cured, and was in great distress. He set down the lantern he was carrying and rushed into the house to get a knife and stick the cow as is the usual custom in such cases. On his return he heard a tremendous explosion and on reaching the barn found it in darkness. He procured another light and was astonished to find the cow dead with its stomach ruptured in several places and the entrails and liver scattered over the barn. It was a clear case of gas explosion. The cow had evidently gotten loose and upset the lantern and the gas from her stomach coming in contact with the flame of the candle had resulted disastrously to the cow. The mouth and throat of the animal was burned black. Never before in this State has there been a similar case of gas explosion, although the gas from alfalfa bloat is known to be highly explosive under certain conditions. The cow was a graded Holstein and valued at $75.

Mint News.

Bob Stewart shipped a gold bar from the Gem mine in Silver Star district, Esmeralda county, weighing 35 ozs and worth $450. The bar was the proceeds of 6 1/2 pounds of rock.

McGill & Lyons owners of the Chairman mine in Ely district, White Pine county, have shipped to the mint a $1400 gold bar, the result of a new and rich strike in their mine, which bids fair to be one of the best paying gold properties in this State.

Stood by Their Prices.

When the Kelly Brothers started the cash grocery, the prices were made so low that everybody said that as soon as they got plenty of custom, they would raise. In spite of all these predictions they have kept their uniform low prices, and are now selling groceries as cheaply as they did when they started the business.

AN EXPERTS OPINION.

The Pine Nut Ledges Are Well Defined.

Yesterday George Parker a Colorado mining expert returned from Pine Nut and when interviewed by the APPEAL he gave the following:

"I am surprised at Pine Nut because from reading the newspaper accounts I expected to find a very broken country. But it is not, the ledges are well defined. The ledge has a trachyte foot wall and a lime stone cap. This is a good formation and in nearly every respect similar to the geological formation in Tin Cup and Gold Cup, Colorado. The gulches are very rich in gold and the gold is the result of attrition from the upper ledges. I saw places where I should say the gold would run over a hundred dollars a day to the man for placer."

"The spar which many mistake for quartz contained a great deal of gold, but what pleased me most of all and indicated the permanency of the place as gold producing was the manganese of iron, which was very rich. I should also expect to find some gold in the lime. Your article saying that the laws of geology were set at defiance I cannot endorse. It is the original formation and I found no signs of faults or disturbances. I have never seen anything like it in the United States for richness, and I have seen a good many camps. Such a group of mines in Colorado would bring a million dollars. With energy and capital this can be made to pay as well as any district in Nevada. Its possibilities seem to me of the most flattering character. What I saw astonished me and was far better than I expected."

Sheriffs Safe.

The sheriffs sale of Sam Muldoons vegetables, truck and farming implements takes place at Henry Burhs ranch today at 1 o'clock.

The Carson News and Tribune never miss an opportunity to ridicule Langevin, who was bribed to secrete himself in the Heney trial, but they haven't a word to say against the money which furnished the money and did the dirty work. Are they in with the play? Like Independent.

Simply old time devotion to the party.

The expected sensations in the contempt cases are still delayed. The public think that if Brule does not have company soon he had better be released. As long as the men who plotted the job and furnished the money are not before the bar of the Court and behind the bars of the jail, it has been a miscarriage of justice.

Things are already getting pretty lively between the A. P. A. and the Catholics in this city. It is claimed that a young man was discharged from a leading business house Carson, because he was an A. P. A. and the society is retaliating by boycotting the house.

The Philadelphia Press shrewdly says: "Lord Bunraven was brought up in a country where the suspicions of a peer outweigh the testimony of a plain, sea-faring man," and adds that "this is not that kind of a country."

The Independent says the law requiring births, marriages and deaths to be recorded is a dead letter. There is no charge for recording such certificate and the penalty for failure to do so is not less than $20 for each case.

Jerome B. Fargo, of the liquor firm of E. A. Fargo, San Francisco, and well known throughout the Coast, died of pneumonia at his home in the city on Sunday. He was quite a prominent business man.

CHEAP CUSTOM WORK A DECEPTION.

A style of tailoring is rapidly gaining headway which is but an imposition upon the consumer and a detriment to the workman. The cheap custom work or what is called "special order work," is a shrewd dodge for the purpose of deceiving the customer into the belief that he is obtaining custom work at ready made prices. The real worth of custom work lies in the exactness of the fit, and the thoroughness in which it is made. Cheap custom work is therefore inferior to ready made work.

Large concerns, some also engaged in ready made work have grown up of late and depend for patronage upon retail stores, and have numerous agents scattered everywhere soliciting orders and gain trade because of the strikingly cheap prices offered for goods made to order. As a rule these agents seldom obtain an order twice from the same person.

It is about time that this scheme was exposed to the people and ABE COHN of the EMPORIUM shows up the fraud. If you want clothes that fit and are tried on as often as is necessary call at the EMPORIUM Court House Building, Carson City, Nevada.
